

JANISE FLINKMAN
Personal Image Consultant/Speaker

Janise Flinkman helps people learn how to dress and to refine their image in a way that brings them personal and professional success. She draws on more than 20 years of corporate and consulting experience in the field of marketing and branding, and now brings her eye for color, line, texture, shape and pattern to the field of personal image consulting.

When people ask her what an “image consultant” is, she often asks if they have seen the show, “What Not to Wear”? If they have, then she says, “I am trained to do what Stacey and Clinton do but I am WAY nicer”. Janise offers services such as image audits, closet rescues, makeovers and personal shopping. Janise is also passionate about speaking & teaching and offers seminars & keynotes on subjects such as, “Help, I Have Nothing to Wear”, “Loving & Dressing the Body You are Currently In”, “The Power of You – Dressing for Success”, Aging Beautifully, and many other image-related topics.

Janise took her image training at the Conselle Institute of Image Management in Utah in 2006 and is a member of AICI, the Association of Image Consultants International.

Janise has appeared on TV on Global TV, “BT” on CityTV and “New West Weekly” on CTS, has been interviewed on 660 News Radio, written articles for “The Mompreneur” and “Check-up” magazines here in Calgary, and taught seminars for the Calgary Health Region, Mount Royal College, Red Deer College, Intuit Canada, SNC Canada, and many more.

On a personal note, Janise is married to Kevin and has 2 daughters and 2 grown stepsons. In her spare time, she enjoys power walking, weight training, x-country skiing, singing, reading, writing, Facebooking, and interior decorating.
